Hi Alfonso, I can get started on it--Are you asking if the ICP dataset has been included in the other meta-analyses? If so, it has not--this particular data has only been used for the proceedings B paper this year.

Yes, I have information on field coordinates, sampling protocols, dates, etc. I don't think there are area measurements.

The primary email addresses would be for Rachael Winfree, Rufus Isaacs, and myself, but I can get you email addresses for all the co-authors if you like.

Aggregating by site is not necessarily required for analysis since measurements of visitation and fruit production were matched by transect within site, but you certainly could aggregate if you want it to match the other studies.

Thanks,
James
